GRAND THEATRE

The Paramount photo spectacle of "The Eternal City," starring beautiful Pauline Fredrick, which will be disclosed at the Grand Theatre tomorrow, utilizes a regiment of the celebrated Italian carabinieri, loaned to the producers by the government for the purpose of the photoplay. This is the first time in the history of motion pictures that any government has detailed the civil and military body for a similar purpose. The sanction for this unusual concession was obtained through important letters originally secured by Hall Caine from the English government addressed to high authorities in Rome. The soldiers appeared as a guard of the Prime Minister in the scenes in the Coliseum and at the climax of the scene showing the riot which follows the charging of the mob with drawn swords and rifles. Thus the screen added to its many other conquests has even captured an actual rgiment which they converted, for a time, into film actors.

Added to the general beauty and power of this subject, is the vital timeliness derived from the fact that many of the historic edifices injured by a disastrous earthquake in Italy are included in the production, forming the background of the screen production of Hall Caine's stirring romance.

RIOTING IS RESUMED

Major Von Klucker Thrown Into River and Shot to Death—Sixty Detectives Murdered in Cold Blood—Martial Law Proclaimed.

Amsterdam, March 11.—More than one thousand persons have been killed and two thousand injured in the fighting the past week in Berlin, according to advices reached here.

The scenes are reported as more terrible than those of the French revolution. The Reds dragged naked prisoners through the streets and then killed them with hand grenades. Officers were killed by having their throats cut.

The battles raging in the suburbs of Berlin are said to be of the fiercest character. The damage in the vicinity of Alexander Platz is estimated at forty million marks (approximately eight million dollars).

London, March 11.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Berlin yesterday said that Spartacan losses during the recent fighting totalled several thousands, while the government casualties were slight.

Berlin, March 11.—The most terrible air raid of the war took place here Saturday. Throughout the day airmen, directed by War Minister Noske, rained tons of bombs on the Spartacan headquarters, gun emplacements and underground stations where government troops and Spartacists perished together.

Every appliance of modern warfare including bombs containing tons of explosive, as well as tear provoking bombs, were used during the last stage of the battle.

Berlin, March 11.—The Spartacan revolution flamed up in Berlin again Saturday.

Maj. von Klucker, former German military attache in Paris, is the victim of the latest atrocity. The Reds captured him, cut off both his hands, flung him into the river and then riddled his body with bullets as he was struggling, half unconscious from pain, to keep above the surface. Just before he disappeared he grasped a last "Hoch Vaderland."

Radical forces were making a desperate stand in the northern portion of the city.

While government troops were seeking to stamp out the last vestige of resistance in the city, Spartacans made a sudden raid on the police station in Lichtenberg, a suburb. They captured the building, liberated all prisoners, then are reported to have bound sixty detectives and murdered them in cold blood.

The general strike was subsiding in Berlin and central Germany, but new strikers were starting in Rhineland and Silesia.

Spartacans, entrenched around the Boetzow Brewery, were attacked by government troops, who used airplanes and heavy howitzers.

Martial law has been proclaimed in most of the coal districts of upper Silesia. More than 12,600 workers are on strike in the Ruhr district.

Berlin newspapers estimated damage resulting from the revolt at $10,000,000.

FIRE IN MARKET

Blaze Confined to Small Part Used by Fish Merchants.

Fire about eleven o'clock last night destroyed a part of the fish market. The firemen confined the blaze to the southwest corner and the damage was light. The origin of the fire has not been determined. The fire made a big blaze and gave rise to the report that all of the city market was on fire. A big ice box also was destroyed.

ADOPTS FOCH'S REPORT

Supreme Council Agrees Upon Military Terms For Germany—Britain to Sink Her Share of Ships—To Adopt Report of Military Experts.

Paris, March 11—Count Johann von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, has been rejected by the allies as a proposed member of the German delegation to the supreme peace council.

The allies have made it perfectly clear to German officials that the count, who was shown to be head of the German spy system in America, under guise of diplomatic representative, will not be accepted.

His presence at the council, it was pointed out in plain language, would be an insult to the United States and to France.

Paris, March 11.—The Supreme Council at its meeting yesterday decided that the representatives on the economic and financial commissions of the powers with special interests, who have been the cause of much discussion, should be designated by the great powers.

The council then adopted the report of the military experts concerning the definite military status of Germany after fixing the terms.

A change in the attitude of the British Government regarding the plan to sink interned German warships has been noticed since the return of Premier Lloyd George to Paris. It now appears probable that instead of the German craft being sunk, Great Britain will be willing to permit France and Italy to keep some of the ships, but will consent to sink her own allotment.

In this way, it is said, Great Britain would relieve the United States of the necessity of carrying out her projected great naval building program, which it is understood was based nation from having such a predominant navy as would give her control of the seas against the powers of the league of nations.

The addition of a limited number of the German warships to the French and Italian Navies would not sensibly disturb the present balance of naval power, excluding Austria and Germany.

Tear-dimmed eyes shall look in vain,
We shall hear Mother's voice, no never,
Never more on earth again.

WILL BRAND WILHELM

Allies to Force Germany to Turn Over War Criminals—Former Kaiser Held Arch Criminal — Supreme Council in Session.

Paris, March 11.—The preliminary peace treaty, it is learned probably will include a clause requiring Germany to turn over all officials found responsible for war crimes, to be tried by an international tribunal.

Regarding the former Kaiser, the committee is expected to find that he cannot be legally extradited, also that it will be difficult to determine his personal responsibility for the crimes charged against him. A suggestion has been made, however, that the Germans try to obtain his removal from Holland. If there is no other alternative, it is understood an international indictment will be published branding Wilhelm as the world's greatest criminal, his punishment being limited to this document.

The following official communique was issued this afternoon:

"The supreme council met yesterday afternoon at the Quai D'Orsay from 3.30 to 5 o'clock.

"The council decided the great powers had designated representatives of the powers with special interests in the economic and financial commissions.

"The decision then turned in the report of the military experts, presented by Marshal Foch relative to the definitive military status of Germany. The terms of this report were fixed, and its conclusions adopted.

"The next meeting will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock."

Victim Bound Hand and Foot and Hurled to Creek.

Trenton, March 11.—Three highwaymen, traveling in an automobile, kidnaped Leo Herold, of this city, while he was walking along the White Horse pike, en route to his father's home, at Yardville, bound him hand and foot, robbed him of his roll of money and other personal belongings and threw him over the bridge spanning Crosswicks Creek, leaving him presumably to drown.

Herold, however, landed in shallow water and after awhile regained his senses and began calling for help. His cries were heard by Miss Helen Condict, daughter of Dr. E. C. Condict, residing close to the scene. She summoned her father and brother, who rescued the victim.

INGOMAR—June Elvidge

"The Moral Deadline," the new World Picture which will be shown tonight at the Ingomar with June Elvidge as the star, is strikingly interesting and jam-packed with entertainment. It is a picture that every film fan who is looking for the best in entertainment, will enjoy to the utmost.

From every angle this is a dandy picture—it has an unusual plot, a famous and popular star—it has wit, humor and sentiment and it is superbly presented, both scentically and by a cast of superior excellence.

The story told in "The Moral Deadline" concerns a young woman —a shop girl—who meets and falls in love with a young man whom she later marries. This young man is the son of a multi-millionaire, but he marries the girl under a false name and she, of course, does not realize who he really is. The man's father parts them, but later everything ends happily for the young people, who truly love each other.

This is a picture you will thoroughly enjoy. Be sure to see this exceedingly interesting production.

PLANS TO FEED 30,000,000

Britain Basing Reconstruction Policy On This Estimate.

London, March 11.—The British Government is basing its reconstruction plans on an estimate that the United Kingdom, if its soil were properly cultivated, could produce enough foodstuff for about 30,000,000 persons, said Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of Reconstruction, in an interview given the National News.

However, said the Minister, Great Britain must not be purely an agricultural nor an industrial nation, but a blend of both. Some manufacturers must go out of business, he contended but enough would remain to employ those not engaged in agriculture and to maintain a trade that would supply the United Kingdom with the remaining foodstuffs needed.

The Government policy, he declared, was to stimulate agriculture to the utmost, at the same time maintaining the nation's industrial importance.

SUICIDE DIVES UNDER CAR

Unknown Man Deliberately Plunges Between Trolley's Trucks

Trenton, March 11.—Choosing a busy time and the busiest corner in the city, an unidentified man dove beneath one of the big cars of the Trenton & Mercer County Traction Company, at State and Broad streets, yesterday, and was mangled almost beyond recognition. The clothing indicated that he was a prosperous workingman, and under his left arm the initials "J. P. C." were tattooed. On the right arm was tattooed the face of a woman.

The stranger stood on one side of the street while the car was going over the crossing at State and Broad, and when the first truck had passed him he plunged head first under the body of the car and between the trucks. Jacks had to be used to lift the car so the body could be removed.

TO PAY GERMANS IN FOOD

American Army Will Employ Over 10,000 in Road Making

Coblenz, March 11.—In preparing plans for the employment of from 10,000 to 15,000 German civilians on road repairing and other work in the American area of occupation, American Main Headquarters has approved a proposal that the Germans be paid partly in rations. The privilege of taking rations in part payment was decided upon in view of the shortage of food, officers of the Third Army believing that the offer will bring all the laborers needed for work on the country roads. They also believe that it will not be necessary to requisition labor for the upkeep of the highways. The civilians will work under the supervision of American officers.

The laborers will be paid in marks collected from the Berlin Government, with the privilege of taking part of their pay in corned beef, flour, sugar, and coffee at the end of the week. The laborers will receive from 8 to 9 marks a day. The charge for the rations also will be checked against Berlin.

The plan of permitting railroad employes in the area of occupation to obtain a certain amount of rations from the army commissaries became effective some time ago.

REPORT ON YEAR'S WORK

Meeting of Directors of Chamber of Commerce—Annual Meeting Friday Night at Enlisted Men's Club—Has 709 Memberships.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce held a meeting last night when reports were received from the different committees covering a volume of matters of interest to the industrial activities of this city.

These reports were ordered to be read at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce which will be held at 8 o'clock Friday night in the auditorium of the Enlisted Men's Club. Preceding this meeting there will be a smoker from 7 until 8 o'clock in the rathskeller of that club.

The slogan adopted for the meeting is "Civic Interest is Your Interest. Attend the Meeting." It was deemed expedient to secure the Enlisted Men's Club because the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce is not sufficiently large to accommodate the crowd expected to attend this meeting.

The reorganized Chamber of Commerce has a total of 709 memberships representing every line of activity in this city.

Its first year has found its activities covering a wide scope and filled with grave problems, some of which have been met, and many yet remain to be coped with, through plans to be outlined at the annual meeting.

The Chamber of Commerce has extended an invitation to Col. Leroy Hodges, a municipal economist of Richmond to address the Chamber of Commerce on the vital subject of municipal government.

RICHMOND—Peggy Hyland

Peggy Hyland, the versatile, is here again—this time with a role of great dramatic power and emotional force. This popular William Fox star steps as easily from the vivacious, sprightly and hoydenish into the serious and tragic in motion pictures as she steps from a limousine to the curb.

As Signa Herrick, in "The Girl With No Regrets," at the Richmond tonight, Miss Hyland has a part which offers her enviable oportunities for strong dramatic work—for reaching the heart-strings of the audience—for enlisting the sympathy which is due to an innocent girl struggling against the temptations of criminal environment—for thrilling the spectator with situations that threaten to engulf her in ruin.

In no role which Miss Hyland has undertaken in her remarkably successful career as a star has she achieved greater heights than in "The Girl With No Regrets." From the moment she appears on the screen until the startling climax is reached she runs the gamut of varying emotions—and in every scene her art records a triumph.

SUNDAY IS GIVEN $20,000.

Check for $2,000 Mailed Evangelist, Completing Offerings From Richmond People.

Richmond, March 11.—Free will offerings to Billy Sunday have been finally calculated, and a check for $2,000 was sent the evangelist yesterday by C. N. Williams and S. K. McKee, treasurer and secretary, respectively, of the campaign. This makes a total of $20,000 for the evangelist. $18,000 having been given him the day he left here. This amount is larger than that given by several other cities at which Sunday has held meetings. Over and above the amount paid the evangelist $2,000 was expended in sundry expenses of the party while they were in Richmond. It is not the custom to pay expenses of the party, but this was done here and deducted from the free will offering, making the contributions $22,000.

KILLS MOTHER AND CHILDREN

Caseville, Mich., March 11.—Paul Magge, farmer, is held charged with the murder of his mother and his three children, whom he is said to have confessed to killing with a chair as a "religious sacrifice."

After killing his sixty-nine-year-old mother, Magge beat his children, Martha, four; Paul, three; and Pauline, eighteen months, to death. He then killed several head of cattle and surrendered to the police. After surrendering Magge asked the police to return to the farm and kill any animals which "might remain alive."

PAYS DEBT OF NATURE

Amos T. Fisher, who had long been regarded as the oldest resident of Alexandria, passed away this morning at his home on Prince street. He was 93 years old. Mr. Fisher was not a native of this city, but had resided here since early manhood and followed the fortunes and disappointments of his adopted city during nearly four score years.

He was the last survivor of the Alexandrian who left here in 1847 for Mexico when war between that country and the United States was declared. Although burdened by years, Mr. Fisher continued to be a well-known figure up to a few years ago, he often appearing on our streets.

On the 30th of April, 1847, the muster roll of the Alexandria company contained the following names:

Montgomery D. Corse, Captain; Turner W. Ashby, 1st Lieutenant, resigned February 22, 1848, and Sergeant W. J. Higdon was elected to fill the vacancy; Benj. G. Waters, 2d Lieutenant, died in Mexico April 15, 1847; James S. Douglas 2d Lieutenant; John H. Higdon, Orderly Sergeant, promoted to 1st Lieutenant on resignation of Lieutenant Ashby; William J. Minor, Sergeant, promoted 2d Lieutenant April 19, 1847; John T. Young and William Jenkins, Sergeants; Charles F. Force, Silas Moore, Benedict J. Fenwick and Washington Mormon, Corporals; Joseph W. Forde, Fifer, and Wm. H. Mangle, Drummer. Privates, G. C. Ashton, John Acton, John W. Bangs, Chas. A. Baker, John C. Belt, John Brooks, John Brown, Wm. P. Bloxham, McH. Bramlett, Jas. W. Brown, Thompson M. Chichester, Henry Caddis, John E. Carter, Noah Carney, Hampton Carr, Chas. H. Cawood, Thos. L. Coppedge, Jas. Compton, F. D. Carpenter, Wm. Doyle, John S. Dulany, Benjamin Dorsey, Robert Ferguson, Amos T. Fisher, Joseph S. Farrows, John Felts, Jas. H. Fowler, Thomas Fegan, Isaiah Fisher, John F. Goodrich, Jesse C. Green, Henry Gordon, Jacob Howard, William Hall, Z. P. Hunter, John K. Henniger, Frederick Hoffman, John T. Jones, Richard Jones, John Lotts, John Keilholtz, William Maxwell, Robert Mullen, Charles Mullen, Albert J. Minor, Michael Moorlick, George A. Moody, Robert Mitchell, Peter Martin, Daniel Murphy, Robert Matthews, Dougald McPhail, Wm. N. Owens, Albert W. Orrison, John F. Poston, Michael Reinhart, Daniel Reisinger, Thomas Self, Andrew Sullivan, George R. Snyder, Benjamin Swan, James E. Stephenson, Elias Shaw, John Tridle, Willaim Thompson, James R. Vanzant, Philip White, John Weeks, and Covington O. West.

Mr. Fisher had for many years been the only survivor of this gallant band. William Phillips, who died in September, 1917, was a member of the band which escorted the Alexandrians as far as Richmond.

ERA OF OUTLAWRY

A well-known merchant of this city whose store was robbed a few nights ago in talking of the matter today said he was firmly convinced that there is an organized band of thieves in Alexandria, who are thoroughly acquainted with the geography of places they mark for midnight plunder.

Merchants on Union street and the Strand have long suffered from these outlaws, and although the police work diligently in efforts to identify the thieves, it is seldom evidence to convict is obtained.

At present every city in the country is infected with thieves, many of whom are ready to murder should this course be necessary in order to carry out their projects.

A Washington paper in commenting upon this era of outlawry says: "It may seem puzzling that with the census of the churches of America showing the greatest increase in membership in any year in the history of the country and with our ending of a war that had the greatest of moral appeals there should be recorded more crimes of violence and of stratagem than ever before. In some cities, such as New York and Philadelphia, there is an epidemic of highway robbery. In the former city there has been a Wild West flavor by the holding up of trolley cars by bandits who, after gathering their plunder, flee in automobiles. In the latter city the local police seem incapable of handling the situation and the army officers lend military police to help out. This was not done until thugs not only robbed a man in the Pennsylvania Station, but stripped him and there was a hold-up in one of the corridors of the City Hall. Purse-snatching and blackjacking have become so common that there is a demand for the death penalty in cases where the robber is armed with a deadly weapon. But all this is nothing to that in Europe where armed bodies go about pillaging and plundering."

JUVENILE "WARRIORS."

Early last night twelve or fifteen boys, whose ages range from ten to fourteen, were seen hurrying south on Fairfax street. Each was armed with a catrifle or toy gun. When asked by a passerby concerning their objective or mission, they replied hurriedly to the effect that they were bent on having a battle. Sergeant Scott was apprised of the "hostile" movement, and entering the city's motorcycle made a record run for the scene of hostilities. He soon reached the intersection of Duke and Fairfax streets, which was to be the theatre of war, and when those forming the opposing armies obtained a glimpse of the "red devil" they scampered in all directions. Officer Moore was directed to keep a sharp lookout in the section which was to be the scene of battle, but the youngsters failed to mobilize again.

It was learned that youths residing on Queen street had declared war on what they termed "the wharf rats," and had planned a sudden dash on youths of South Fairfax street.

Now in all seriousness parents who allow their boys to carry catrifles at night should take immediate steps towards disarming their offspring and bringing about immediate "peace" with their imaginary enemies. Innocent persons would doubtless have been injured had this miniature "engagement" taken place last night.

LUDENDORFF'S "ALIBI."

"Oh! That mine adversary had written a book," lamented Job, the Chaldean patriarch, who must have known quite well that in the preparation of such a work his enemy would have left open some point for a successful counter-attack.

This exclamation is brought to mind by the announcement that Ludendorff, late "brains" of the German army, now a fugitive hiding in Sweden, is writing a book in which he undertakes to establish a general alibi for himself for the criminal features of the war.

Ludendorff lets it be known that he proposes to lay all the blame on another outlaw, one Hohenzollern, who is in a temporarily safe refuge in Holland, and he declares with all the power he can express that he was not to blame for anything at all.

Meantime, the Hohenzollern is said to be pursuing arduous literary labors varied by regular turns at chopping cordwood. He, too, beyond question, is preparing an alibi. And there are other Huns, both at home and in exile, who are making ready their defense before the world.

The Richmond Virginian, very properly suggests that "in all that we have read or heard about any of these, not a single intimation is given anywhere that anybody is sorry for anything that he personally had a hand in; or holds any regret for anything that Germany did except that it was most thoroughly whipped. Which merely means that, having been rogues always, they are rogues still."

"There is this valuable result likely to come from all those monumental documentary labors. The allies will be able to glean from them a vast amount of exact information as to personal guilt of those who started and carried forward the war against civilization. Not that any one of them will tell more than ten per cent of the truth so far as he himself is concerned; but when the books are brought together and compared the truth that is in these volumes will become apparent. Each criminal's alibi will point clearly at some other's guilt, and the net result of their combined efforts will be to furnish sufficient evidence to hang them all.

GIRL KICKS BANDIT SILLY

Highwayman Worsted in Encounter With Young Woman

"Ogontz, Pa., 11.—"I had on a pair of high heeled shoes. I kicked good and hard—and I guess he knew it, too."

This was the terse summarization of how Miss Helen Hie, an Ogontz girl, put a hold-up man out of commission on a lonely roadway at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, after the bandit had stolen som of her possessions and was making an effort to steal a valuable necklace worn by the girl. Downed by a kick in the pit of the stomach, the bandit scrambled to his feet and ran, escaping several policemen who were assigned to hunt for him within a short time after the robbery.

Miss Hie, employed on the estate of a prominent Philadelphian living a short distance from the Old York road, in Cheltenham township near Ogontz, gave an excellent description of her assailant.

FLOOD IN ALABAMA

Lowlands Generally Are Overflowed, and Stock Endangered—Crest of Flood Reached.

Birmingham, Ala., March 11.—Flood stages prevail in seven rivers of Alabama yesterday which are out of their banks, according to advices her. Flood warnings have been issued for the Cooca, Alabama and Tallapoosa Rivers, and forecasts stated that the Alabama will reach a stage of fifty-on feet at Selma and forty-nine feet at Montgomery, the highest stage recorded since the floods of July, 1916.

The Warrior River reached a stage of 51.12 feet at Tuscaloosa, at 10 o'clock this morning, and, apparently, has reaeched its crest. The lowlands are overflower and stock in swamps may be endangered.

Logs along the river also are being swept down stream. The river is expcted to begin falling tomorrow or Wednesday.

After a heavy rain Saturday and yesterday, the Tennessee River has reached a stage of nineteen feet at Florence, a rise of elevtn feet.. It is not expected, however, to reach the flood stage of twenty-one feet.

The Tombigee has reached a stage of 48.3 feet at Dnopolis. Present indications are that the river will reach a fifty-four foot stage, with the probability of continued rains and a further rise. No property damage has yet been reported.

The stage of the Coosa at Gadsden today was reported at 19.2 feet. It is expected to reach the flood stage of twenty-two feet in a day or so. The river rose more than two feet Sunday. No damage has been reported from the flood at Gadsdn.

KILS SELF WITH SHOTGUN

Queen Anne's Farmer Used Yardstick to Pull Trigger.

Centreville, Md., March 11.—Placing the muzzle of a 12-gauge, single-barreled shotgun to his left breast and using a yardstick to pull the trigger, William H. Cole, 72 years old, a respected farmer of the Second district of Queen Annes' county, committed suicide Saturday morning at his home near Starkey's Corner. The charge of shot entered his body about two inches below the heart.

He leaves his wife and eight children.

Mr. Cole had been in ill health for more than six months, and during the last few months had brooded over his condition.

WOMAN DIRECTS BANDITS

Tells Men Which Handbag to Take When Rope is Thrown Around

Darby, Pa., March 11.—Mrs. Ellen Carson, an aged resident of Baily road, Yeadon, and her tow daughters. Misses Mary and Henrietta, were the victims of a hold-up perpetrated by two men and a woman, near the corner of Twelfth and Main streets Darby, about 1 o'clock Friday morning. They had missed the last car to Yeador and were walking home, when, at a secluded spot, a rope was thrown around all three of them and they were dragged to the ground.

One of the men at first tried to take a small handbag that Mrs. Carson was carrying, but was told by his woman companion who seemed to be the directing spirit of the trio, that he had the wrong one. Then he wrested from Mrs. Carson a larger bag that contained $150, jewelry worth $190 and two pension checks made out in Mrs. Carson's favor and indorsed by her daughters. So forcibly did the thug take the bag that the handle was broken off, remaining in the grasp of Mrs. Carson.

The three victims screamed for help, but the bandits worked quickly and had escaped in the darkness before a policeman arrived, released the women and escorted them home.

Documents Left in Brussels Show Five Companies Were Formed to Loot France and Belgium

Paris, March 11.—Evidence of an organized system for the destruction of shops and manufacturing plants in Belgium and Northern France by the Germans has been uncovered by the Brussels police in documents left behind among the records of the German Government during the occupation of Brussels.

On their face the documents seem to establish that "destruction companies" were founded by the operated under the auspices of the government of ocupation. They were five in number.

Immediately upon the occupation of Northern France and Belgium a complete inventory of all the material and machinery of the large plants was taken by a special organization. Full indexes were made, a copy of which was supplied to the various companies under a German official in Brussels. The index cards were of different colors, yellow cards representing the district of Longwy-Briey, which was called "the yellow zone." green cards for Maubeuge and vicinity, known as "the green zone;" "the blue zone" being the region of Lille and Douai.

Under the system the five destruction companies had to apply to the special organization for permission to commence work on any plant, the organization retaining 6 per cent. commission on the gross value, as well as 22 marks 50 pfennigs a ton on the iron destroyed and 15 pfennigs for each metre of destroyed material. This was done in order to reimburse itself for the labor suplied to the destruction companies, consisting of prisoners of war.

(Communicated)

Editor of the Gazette:

Sir I read an article in Saturday's Gazette entitled queer legislation by our friend, George H. Hayden and I should like the privilledge of responding to some of his joy-killing movements, as he calls them, in the first place I want to ask him if it is any joy-killing movement to drive out of a state or nation a business that makes a man who works all the week and when he gets his money instead of supporting his family as he should, get charged up, go home and drive his wife and children out of the house in the cold after he has given all or the most of his money to the rum seller. Now as far as clean healthy sports on Sunday are concerned, I want to say that Sunday was never set apart as a day for clean or any other kind of sport but as a day of rest and to go to church, and by so doing try to thank the good and all wise father in Heaven for his many good and perfect gifts to us. We have six days for work and sports and we should certainly be willing to observe the seventh day as God's day, according to his holy word. He says it is feared that the dry forces are the real drunkards of the nation, drunk with their own success at throttling the will of the majority. I want to deny that most emphatically and say he is mistaken. Did we or did we not roll up a good majority in this good old state of ours (the home of Washington, Lee Jackson and several other god and noble men) for prohibition of the rum traffic, was the will of the majority throttled in that election no, and there are a good many that know it too. Our friend George winds up with wake up thinking people before they put you to sleep for keeps. The thinking people are best asleep when they know that they have done their best to banish from our state our nation the worst curse that could be put on any nation on the face of God's green earth, a curse that makes fathers brutalize their wives and children and often kill them too and curses their grey-haired mothers and fathers, their best earthly friends, then to wake up and let old John Barleycorn get the best of them and finally go to sleep in drunkards graves and go to drunkard's H—

WANT A REVOLUTION

I. W. W. Anarchists and Radical Socialists Would Overthrow Government.

Washington, March 11.—Mail matter seized since the signing of the armistice has disclosed that the I. W. W. anarchists, radical socialists and others, are "perfecting an amalgamation" which has for its object the overthrow of the American government through a "bloody revlution" and the establishment of a bolshevik republic, according to a memorandum sent to the Senate propaganda committee by Solicitor Lamar, of the Post Office Department. The memorandum was made public yesterday by the committee and Chairman Overman said it would be read into the record today.

Declaring that in bolshevism the radical elements of the country had for the first time "found a common cause upon which they unite," Mr. Lamar said his information showed that propaganda against the government was being conducted with great regularity, and that its magnitude could be measured by the "bold and outspoken statements" found in the literature.

Accompanying his memorandum were several hundred excerpts from mail matter showing the trend of the propaganda. These will be made public later.

Cincinnati, March 11—Mayor Gavin yesterday announced he would fight the spread of the social unit idea, as practiced in the Mohawk Brighton District, where an effort has been made to establish a model community.

Gavin regards the social unit plan as socialistic. 'And Socialism leads to Bolshevism," he said.

The social unit idea is financed by New York philanthropists.

In the Mohawk-Brighton district each block is organized with a "block mother" at its head.

The organization has devoted itself especially to the saving of babies.

The order was issued on the application of the Alien Property Custodian.

Judge Knox has set March 24 as a date when interested parties must appear and show cause why the securities should not be turned ovr to the Alien Property Custodian. Litigation instituted to wind up the affairs of the company is pending in the State Supreme Court.

PERMITS BOND CONVERSION

Glass Reopens Privilege for Liberty Issues

Washington, March 11.—Secretary Glass, acting under authority conferred by the Victory Liberty Loan act, today issued an order reopening to holders of converted bonds of the first Liberty Loan and of bonds of the second Liberty Loan the privilege of having their bonds converted into 4 1-2 per ceit bonds. These two classes of bonds now bear interest at 4 per cnt.

The conversion privilege, which expired last November 9, under the loan act then in effect, is reopened under the order as of March 7 and the extension is indefinite.

Holders of the bonds may present them for conversion at any bank. Regulation forms of application have been prepared and will be available within a few days. At the time the bonds are converted coupon bonds may be exchanged for registered bonds.

THREATEN GENERAL STRIKE

Demand Workers Laid off by Norfolk and Western Be Returned to Duty.

Roanoke, Va., March 11.—Officials of the Central Trades and Labor Council, stated late last night that as many as ten affiliated local unions had indorsed a resolution adopted at a mass meeting of the members of the membrs of labor unions of the city Sunday afternoon to the effect that international officers of all the affiliated unions be requestd through their respective locals to call a general strike of all their members on the Norfolk and Western and Virginian railways, unless the men who have been laid off, be placed are ordered to be laid off, be placed back in the service on a pre-war basis.

Meetings of other local unions are scheduled to be held today to pass upon the resolution.

It is understood that the demand for employment of men on a pre-war basis means employment by the roads of the same number of men as employed by them in the early part of 1917.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The first fatality among fifteen cases of illness resembling sleeping sickness was reported in Chicago yesterday.

Organized labor will not accept the reasoning of the Federal Reserve Board, that all classes must share in the results of readjustment, including wages and price matters, soon to be expected. This was made plain yesterday in a statement issued by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor.

Alonzo O. Bliss, real estate owner and patent-medicine manufacturer, was ordered yesterday by Justice Hitz of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to pay his wife, Emma C. Bliss, $1,000 a month alimony, beginning with this month. The order also requires Mr. Bliss to allow his wife $7,500 counsel fees.

Advices to the State Dpartment from official sources yesterday state that the Spanish government has decided "to mobilize strikers and transform them into public service units, sending them back to the work under military discipline." The strike in Spain was taking on very large proportions and spreading throughout the kingdom.

One workman was killed and seven wounded when oplicemen interfered with a strikers' meeting in Havana yesterday. The meeting was called by members of the labor federation to protest against the arrangement by which the leaders agreed to call off the strike. The program for settlement was submitted by President Menocal and promptly accepted by the employers. Many strikers, accepting the action of their leaders, returned to work. Advices to the State Department say the strike has been called off.

The decades-old dream of a channel tunnel connecting England and France is to become a reality at last. Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in the House of Commons yesterday that the government was considering immediate inception of the construction of the tunnel, and proposed to employ demobilized soldiers in the work. This would provide jobs for hundreds of thousands of returned soldiers. The distance is about 20 miles.

Resolutions that the Commissioners of the District of Columbia make a request of Congress for a much larger police force and creation of a new police court for trial of traffic cases were adopted last night by the Piney Branch Citizens' Association. It was declared that there has been a large increase in crime and traffic accidents in the District during the last year. Congested courts keep many policemen for hours from their duties, and, as there have been 13,000 traffic cases brought before the Police Court in the past year is demanded.

Eugene V. Debs must serve the sentence of ten years' imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth imposed by the United States Court in Ohio for violation of the espionage act, the United States Supreme Court having affirmed the judgment of conviction yesterday. Debs was convicted on two counts and given ten years on each. The sentences run concurrently. The conviction of Jacob Frohwerk, a writer for the Missouri Staats Zeitungfi who prepared a series of articles for that paper opposing the draft, was also affirmed. He was convicted on twelve counts and sentenced to ten years on each, running concurrently.

Five hundred and thirteen persons accused of violating the Federal law prohibiting the transportation of intoxicating liquor from the wet territory of Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky into dry Indiana, were arraigned yesterday in United States District Court in Indianapolis, Ind. Severe penalties for those who plead guilty are expected, as Judge A. B. Anderson warned at the last session of court that he would be more severe with violators of the liquor laws in the future. Automobiles will be seized the same as whisky when persons are found smuggling liquor into dry territory, according to an order by Federal Judge A. B. Anderson.

MAKE IT CHEERFUL

There's generally some excuse for tired, non-smiling faces. Nevertheless, it is the duty of all of us to keep on smiling. We can't frighten away burdens and inconveniences by frowning at 'em.

When you give a number to the operator, give it in a voice that smiles. And when you converse over the telephone, let a bit of the smile creep into your conversation. Make your talk cheerful and brief.

We ask you to make it short because the wires are in great demand. The operators are busy. Make their work lighter and help to keep them smiling.
